Not in our time, at least, so mysterious and elusive a character as William Randolph Hearst, Democratic nominee for govenorship of New York, aspirant for the presidency of the United States. There he is, a personality to be reckoned with, one it is necessary to understand. Lincoln Steffens tells for the first time in a clear, forceful, fearless manner just where Hearst is Hearst and where he is someone else; a vital, striking, out-of-the-ordinary delineation of him as journalist and politician-his personality, his ambition, his theories, his
